Dining in the sky, or in the dark, in a horror-themed setting or a hidden location... The world has a range of unusual restaurants to please the palate in the most unlikely places.

Imagine having a romantic dinner in a tram as it is making its way through Milan city center. Or would you rather visit an underwater restaurant? Would you even consider dining on a toilet seat and wiping your mouth with toilet paper? Or does the idea of sitting at a table suspended at a height of 50 meters seem more appealing? Extreme Restaurants takes you on an amazing journey through the world's most bizarre restaurants, from a UFO eatery and a skyscraper restaurant to a bistro in a revolving cable car and a restaurant with only one table. Grabbing a bite to eat has never been so adventurous.

What do you consider in finding the perfect place to eat? On top of the list is the sumptuous food that they serve. Others consider affordability. For some, the location of the restaurants matter. The ambiance is a huge factor too. That is why restaurant owners pay interior designers to provide a well suited setting for their dining place. They choose the best materials in building up their restaurants. Dishes together with its tableware are served in a very artistic manner.

Some imaginative restaurateurs add some twists to their set up to spice things up a bit. Aside from the awesome interiors you will be amused with how the meals are served or how you should be eating them. Weird food plus themed environment equals unique dining experience.

Looking for ways to spice up your dining experience that don't involve Tabasco sauce? Here are some restaurants that will satisfy your taste for adventure, anonymity and amusement as well as your appetite.

Almost everyone enjoys going out for dinner, but do you find yourself "hungry" for a real "dining experience?" Are you thinking that dining out should offer an adventure for "all" of your senses, not just your sense of taste?
